

LIBRARY NOTICE

The introduction of remote teaching has negatively affected some of the students who did not access technology. The university is now introducing an intervention to address the gap created because of inaccessibility of technology to the students. In this intervention students will be offered with alternate face to face classes for the theory, laboratory and field attachment practical's, and clinical industrial attachment. This intervention is expected to take place across all faculties and campuses during the duration of June/July 2020.

During this period, Libraries will until further notice operate as follows:
