SECOND SEMESTER MODE OF STUDY

UNAM students will continue to be taught online until further notice. Any resumption of face to face teaching will be communicated well in advance to allow enough time to plan logistics. The University will therefore not motivate for students travelling permits to and from restricted areas.

The increasing rates of transmission make it difficult to teach without putting students and staff at increased risk, solely due to the nature of face to face teaching and practical training.

All practical training will be separately conducted when the situation improves, and students will be notified, well in advance.

UNAM remains committed to helping students meet their career objectives during this difficult time. We appreciate all the patience and support from our key stakeholders; students.

Thank you.
